PRESS RELEASE
NOVEMBER 3, 2009

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Event Name: Mixed Media Workshop
Instructor: Elke Briuer
Date: Saturday, January 30, 2010
Time: 9:00am-4:00pm
Admission: $45 SCHF Members or $50 Non-members

Description:

Each student will learn how using old magazines, household cleaner and imagination can add up to incredible art. The class will allow students to learn the method of applying Citra-Solv to magazine pages to create abstract art. Students will learn this process through many steps to create their masterpiece. Wearing old clothing is a must for this all day project. The cost for this fascinating workshop is $45 SCHF Members and $50 non-members and all supplies are included.

Elke Briuer is a retired public relations professional with a love for painting and creative crafts since early age. She is a native of Germany, who came to the US in 1962, and became a citizen in 1964. She began painting seriously in 1986, beginning with watercolors and drawing, thus continuing the art training she had started in Germany and at Central Texas College. She continues taking workshops and participates in local painting groups on a weekly basis. Briuer has lived in Vicksburg, Mississippi since 1988, where she now maintains BriuerPatch Studio at her home. She is a member of the Vicksburg Art Association and the Mississippi Artists Guild.

Space is limited and reservations are required. For more information, contact 601.631.2997 or email info@southernculture.org.
